
Privacy Statement

VM Racks has a policy to respect and protect the privacy of its customers and their information that is stored with VM Racks. VM Racks will only access and disclose information as necessary to comply with applicable laws and government requests, to operate or maintain its systems or to protect itself or its customers. VM Racks will never sell customer data.